

MARICOPA COMMUNITY COLLEGES TRANSFER PATHWAY

NUTRITION & FOOD SYSTEMS B.S.

Students in Nutrition and Food Systems examine the factors that affect our food systems including production challenges in an arid desert region, cultural influences that shape cuisine, and the relationships between food security, nutrition, and overall health. Students apply scientific evidence, best practices, and their professional judgment to seek solutions to better manage the food supply chain from production to processing, distribution, consumption, and waste control while preserving our environment and safeguarding human health.

TRANSFER EQUIVALENCIES

On the following page you will find course equivalencies for Nutrition and Food Systems. The information presented is a recommended outline of courses for students to take at Maricopa Community Colleges that will transfer as equivalent courses to the University of Arizona. Please consult with a transfer admissions counselor and academic advisor to review specific courses as transfer pathways are subject to change.

The course equivalencies on the following page are from the AZTransfer course equivalency guide. The student's successful completion of each course will be reviewed in the pre-admission evaluation. Please note that all course work will be officially evaluated once your official transcript is processed by the University of Arizona. Students must receive a grade of a C or higher for a course to transfer.
